Walter Smith, who is manager of the Standard Oil Co.'s distributing station at Yale, has added a new motor truck to his outfit. He is now better prepared than ever to take care of the large business in the sale of oil and gasoline and can get over more than ten times the territory in a day than he did with the teams, and does it so much easier. Walt believes in keeping to the forefront, so far as promptness and progress is concerned.

Fred Boliger and Joe Moore, employees of the Yale Market Co. since its incorporation, this week purchased T. J. Minnie's stock in the company and will take it over June 1st. Both of these gentlemen are hustlers and understand the business thoroughly. We predict that the success attained since its organization will be continued under their management. Mr. Minnie will give his attention to his farm west and south of Yale.

Watt Greenwood, of Detroit, returned to his home this morning after a week's visit with Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Stevens. Mr. Greenwood served as a private in the British army and fought in several battles during the present war with Germany in the trenches in France. He took part at Ypres, Festubert and Givenchy, being wounded twice in the last named battle on June 15th, 1915. In November he returned to his home in Detroit.

Work of County Agriculturist

For reasons that are obvious, a considerable portion of the time last week was occupied with office work.

The field work that was accomplished extended into four different townships, St. Clair, China, Wales and Port Huron. On Tuesday a tuberculosis demonstration was held in co-operation with Mr. Stapleton of the State Livestock Sanitary Commission. Unmistakable lesions of the disease were found in both the liver and lungs of the animal slaughtered.

Charles Babcock was also given assistance in testing his herd near the city for tuberculosis.

Wednesday the meeting of the China Farmers' Club was attended at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Layle, of China township, where the subject of poultry raising was discussed.

Thursday afternoon a trip was made to the farm of E. W. Lewis near Lamb. The soil in several of his fields was tested and questions on lime and alfalfa considered. Some assistance was also given with the Babcock test in regard to some details of the operation that had been giving trouble. Cow testing association work was also explained and Mr. Lewis has decided to join the Cow Testing Association when the next vacancy occurs. A call was also made at the farm of Geo. Emory where assistance with cream testing had been requested.

The Cow Testing Association was sorry to lose Mr. F. A. Beard, who requested to be released on account of illness. However, this will leave no vacancy as the herd belonging to Myron Mills and T. J. Thwaites of Kimball township was placed on the route when Mr. Beard withdrew from the Association. Indications are that another association will soon be needed to take care of all the people who are becoming interested in the work.

With a view to obtaining more help along the line of canning, Miss Paulina Raven, of the Michigan Agricultural College has been secured for three days next month. She will be in the county the 19th, 20th and 21st, and an effort will be made to hold two canning demonstrations each day. Any community wishing one of these meetings should notify the County Agent at an early date so that the work can be planned to use the time to the best possible advantage.

During the month of June, Mr. C. B. Cook, Assistant State Leader of County Agents is also expected. Mr. Cook's services have been secured for the purpose of assisting a number of men with drainage problems, and he will have a level and other equipment so that definite information can be given each man. Mr. Cook has had years of experience in drainage work, both on his own farm and while acting in the capacity of County Agent for Allegan County, and his advice is considered the best and most practical obtainable.

C. L. Brody, County Agent

George Middleton, of Peck, is in Yale today.

Farmers feel much better over the fine weather we have had the past three days.

Roy Moore came up from Detroit the first of the week to see his new-born daughter, Mary Carolyn, who arrived on Tuesday, May 16. Friends are offering congratulations.

Yale High School and the Emmett base ball teams will play at the city park on the afternoon of Decoration Day. You may expect a hotly contested game, and it should be largely attended.

Claude Sweet is in Port Huron this week wiring the Metropolitan Hotel for electric lights. P. J. Flynn, proprietor of this popular hostelry, is bound to have everything up-to-date and convenient for his guests.

At the St. Clair County Federation of Gleaners, to be held with Thornton Arbor at Sunnyside on June 6th, we notice that Marie McNulty of Yale, is to give recitations at both afternoon and evening programs.

Guests at the home of Mrs. Eva J. Black on Sunday were Mrs. Lydia Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Gurley Smith, Mrs. Bert Powers and daughter, from Berville, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Morley and daughter from Capre.
